AUSBIOTECH 2010 NATIONAL CONFERENCE SPEAKERS' PROFILE

Dr Stella Xu
Executive Director
Roche Partnering Asia
Shanghai, China

Dr. Stella Xu is an Executive Director with Roche Partnering Asia. Her major responsibilities include searching potential licensing opportunities (products / technologies), and supporting transaction discussions & alliance management in Asia. Prior to her current position, Stella had held multiple global positions in Roche Partnering in the US and led more than 30 product-focused due diligence projects and alliances, including the latest two major product licensing deals in Asia.

Stella joined Roche from McKinsey & Company US, a premier management consulting firm that provides strategic advices to the top management of global business leaders. At McKinsey, she led consulting engagements with global biopharmaceutical clients in areas ranging from R&D strategy, marketing & sales, to corporate development and M&A activities. Prior to McKinsey, Stella conducted biotech drug discovery work in oncology and inflammation.

Stella received her Ph.D. in Immunology and executive MBA training from Northwestern University, and her B.S. in Biophysics from Peking University.
